This Privacy Statement is incorporated by reference into the Trackimo Terms of Service. This Privacy Statement was developed so you know how we collect, use, disclose, transfer and store your information. Please read through this Privacy Statement to familiarize yourself with our privacy practices. If you have any questions, please let us know by emailing us at support@Trackimo.com (<mailto:support@Trackimo.com>) or by sending us a letter to the address set forth at the end of this Privacy Statement.

This Privacy Statement describes the treatment of information Trackimo collects on the website where this Privacy Statement is posted and from certain of our products and applications.

Websites of our affiliates may be governed by privacy practices different from those set forth below. We encourage you to check the privacy statement of each related website you visit. In addition, users of certain of our products and applications are provided with privacy statements that are specific to those products and applications – in those instances, those privacy statements supplement and should be read in conjunction with this Privacy Statement.

In any case, user data and position data will only be passed on to third parties if this is required for legal reasons or if these third parties perform services or actions on behalf of and for TRACKIMO, such as the operation of the Trackimo platform on third-party servers.

- 4) TRACKIMO may use automatic communication systems like e-mail for the purpose of carrying out marketing activities. However, users may also choose to block any contact made for marketing purposes.

5) After registering on the Trackimo platform, users can create and edit their own profile.

A cookie of this type is saved on the user's computer. The user can change the settings on his computer to remove such cookies or enable usage of the platform without cookies.

8) TRACKIMO is entitled to change these data protection terms within the limits of the statutory data protection legislation. TRACKIMO will announce any changes to this declaration. The user has the opportunity to reject any changes in writing, whereby an e-mail is sufficient.

In these cases TRACKIMO may cancel the provision of services for the user.

9) Provided the user has agreed to this during the registration process or at a later stage, TRACKIMO may send a newsletter to the user during the period of the agreement containing information relating for example to the topics of support, technical information and other information about the scope of the utilized services, possible upgrade options and other information relating to the operation of the TRACKIMO platform.
